REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

Orange County Restorative Justice Center

Statewide Equity thru Data, Justice, Inclusion & Education (EDJIE) Initiative

Data and Evaluation Project

Section 1: OVERVIEW

Through this Request for Proposal (RFP) the Orange County Restorative Justice Center (hereinafter, OCRJC) is seeking proposals from qualified and experienced entities to conduct a data needs assessment with the four primary funders (VT Department of Corrections-DOC, the VT Attorney General's Office-AGO-DCF, the VT Department for Children and Families, and the Vermont Center for Crime Victim Services-VCCVS) and the directors of the 23 agencies funded in part by those departments and offices; create standardized, relevant metrics and collection tools related to racial justice and inclusion outcomes; and develop a proposal for a statewide data collection process. The purpose of this work is to increase racial justice, equity and inclusion in the 23 state-funded restorative justice agencies, and to develop metrics that track outcomes and help tell the story of what our agencies do in accordance with the Scope of Work specified in this Request for Proposals (RFP). An award will be made to the entity that demonstrates:

- experience and expertise in data collection and analysis;
- understanding of the relationship between data and evaluation and racial justice, equity and inclusion outcomes;
- experience with human service organizations and/or in the justice field;

and, in addition,

- proposes reasonable costs,
- and meets the requirements of this RFP.

It is the intent to award a contract for a 1-year term, with options for additional extensions. OCRJC will hold the master contract supported by Grant No. 15PBJA-22-GG-01205-BRND awarded by the Bureau of Justice Assistance. The Bureau of Justice Assistance is a component of the Department of Justice's Office of Justice Programs, which also includes the Bureau of Justice Statistics, the National Institute of Justice, the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, the Office for Victims of Crime, and the SMART Office.

We recognize our work is strengthened when our colleagues include people of diverse races, ethnicities, backgrounds and identities, recognizing and respecting that all perspectives and experiences are valuable to our work and essential to our public service. For the purposes of this project, we encourage proposals led by BIPOC (Black, Indigenous, and People of Color) and other historically underrepresented populations. This includes, but is not limited to, communities who identify as immigrants, women, older adults, LGBTQIA+, disabled, members of racial and ethnic minorities, and firms, organizations, and vendors with a shared commitment to advancing equity.

A. BACKGROUND:

Vermont’s 23 community and restorative justice organizations (hereafter referred to as “restorative justice agencies”) engage Vermont’s citizens in addressing conflict and crime in their communities, offering opportunities for people impacted by crime to have their needs met in ways the legal system is ill equipped to provide. These organizations include community justice centers and other non-profit agencies, some of which have funding sources in addition to the four named above. See Appendix I for services funded by the AGO, DCF, and DOC.

Evidence-based restorative practices are known to reduce entry into the criminal and juvenile justice systems and to reduce recidivism. Restorative justice programs provide cost savings to communities by reducing the number of cases entering the criminal justice system; reducing workloads for police, courts, the State’s Attorney’s office, and DOC; and taking a holistic, repair-oriented approach to justice.

Restorative justice systems and programs must ensure that these transformative efforts are equitable and fair for all Vermonters.

See Appendix I for a detailed description of Vermont’s state funded restorative justice programs and the agencies, organizations and municipalities contracted to carry out this work.

B. MISSION OF INITIATIVE:

There are numerous examples of areas where Vermont’s criminal justice and law enforcement systems are systematically failing people in the most marginalized identity groups. Training, education, and consistent, effective data collection tools and practices are necessary to understand and take action to address the ways Vermont’s restorative justice system perpetuates the prevalent inequities in the criminal legal systems. This 2-year grant allows the 23 state-funded restorative justice (RJ) organizations to pursue the following project outcomes:

1. Develop, deliver, and institutionalize professional development trainings to address personal and institutional racism, implicit bias, trauma, gender equity, and general inclusivity;
2. Conduct a statewide data collection evaluation to improve racial justice and inclusion outcomes, including a needs assessment, the creation of standard metrics and collection tools, and the proposal for a new, shared data-management system;
3. Support agencies and state partners to review and update policies and procedures with the guidance of anti-racism experts.

A six-member leadership team, comprised of directors from six of the 23 agencies, is coordinating this initiative. The OCRJC serves as the fiscal agent for the project and will be the organization on record for contracting with up to three entities to manage this work.

Up to $287,000 is available to fund 3 contracts that fulfill the project outcomes listed above.

C. SCOPE:

The scope of the Data and Evaluation contract will include:

1. Working with the 23 agencies and the 4 primary funders (VT DOC, VT AGO, VCCVS and VT DCF) to conduct a statewide data collection assessment to distinguish what is required data collection, what is aspirational, what is currently collected and how is it being collected;

2. Using Results Based Accountability, or similar easy-to-use evaluation tools, propose metrics that help tell the story of what the 23 agencies do, how their work contributes to the state, and helps add value to the analysis of equity measures leading up to and within the criminal justice system;
3. Developing transparent, non-discriminatory, easy to use tools to collect above metrics that are vetted amongst the funders and agencies for practicality, quality, accessibility and feasibility;
4. Designing an integrated data system for use by all 23 agencies that could feed into a future software database.

D. DELIVERABLES:

The vendor shall work with the Initiative to address the lack of meaningful and consistent data collected by the 23 agencies related to restorative justice. To achieve this objective, the vendor will deliver:

1. A report outlining existing data collection tools and data points, data and tools needed for reporting program outcomes, and needs related to state and federal reporting requirements and recommendations for identifying disparities and inequities;
2. A set of new evaluation and assessment tools (surveys, etc.) that are user-friendly, accessible, and align with contemporary best-practices;
3. Detailed design proposal for a data system to address the unique needs and goals for data capture of Vermont state-funded Restorative Justice agencies which allows for:
 - a) the capture of quality data that identifies and addresses disparities in the delivery of restorative justice services;
 - b) provides metrics to guide improvements for racial justice and inclusion outcomes; and
 - c) provides Results Based Accountability reporting or similar easy-to-use evaluation tools.
4. Reporting systems that allow data to be translated into actionable insights for stakeholders and communities.

It is anticipated that work would start by May 1, 2023 and be completed by June 30, 2024.

To the extent possible, and as needed and required by the scope and intended outcomes, the entities offering this service are expected to work in coordination with other entities contracted to fulfill the grant outcomes.

G. STATEMENT OF RIGHTS: The OCRJC reserves the right to obtain clarification or additional information necessary to properly evaluate a proposal. Section 3: CONTENT AND FORMAT OF RESPONSES

The content and format requirements listed below are the minimum requirements for proposal evaluation. These requirements are not intended to limit the content of a Bidder's proposal. Bidders may include additional information or offer alternative solutions for consideration. However, the OCRJC discourages overly lengthy and costly proposals, and Bidders are advised to include only such information in their response as may be relevant to the requirements of this RFP.

A. COVER LETTER:

1. Confidentiality: To the extent your bid contains information you consider to be proprietary and confidential, you must comply with the following requirements concerning the contents of your cover letter and the submission of a redacted copy of your bid (or affected portions thereof).

The successful response will become part of the contract file and will become a matter of public record, as will all other responses received. If the response includes material that is considered by the bidder to be proprietary and confidential under the State's Public Records Act, 1 V.S.A. § 315 et seq., the bidder shall submit a cover letter that clearly identifies each page or section of the response that it believes is proprietary and confidential. The bidder shall also provide in their cover letter a written explanation for each marked section explaining why such material should be considered exempt from public disclosure in the event of a public records request, pursuant to 1 V.S.A. § 317(c), including the prospective harm to the competitive position of the bidder if the identified material were to be released. Additionally, the bidder must include a redacted copy of its response for portions that are considered proprietary and confidential. Redactions must be limited so that the reviewer may understand the nature of the information being withheld. It is typically inappropriate to redact entire pages, or to redact the titles/captions of tables and figures. Under no circumstances can the entire response be marked confidential, and OCRJC reserves the right to disqualify responses so marked.

2. Exceptions to Contract Terms and Conditions: If the bidder wishes to propose an exception to any terms and conditions set forth in the attachments, such exceptions must be included in the cover letter to the RFP response. Failure to note exceptions when responding to the RFP will be deemed to be acceptance of OCRJC terms and conditions. If exceptions are not noted in the response to this RFP but raised during contract negotiations, OCRJC reserves the right to cancel the negotiation if deemed to be in the best interests of OCRJC. Note that exceptions to terms may cause rejection of the proposal.
